HEAVY GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS SMASHED BY U. S. FIFTH ARMY AT NAPLES; BRIDGEHEADS ARE FIRM

Eisenhower Announces That Fifth Army and Allied Supporting Units Have Overcome Stiff Resistance—Island of Ventotene, 50 Miles West of Naples, is Occupied by Fifth—"Progress Satisfactory."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Five heavy German counter-attacks have been smashed by the United States Fifth Army at Naples and Allied bridgeheads on this section of Italian mainland were firmly established today.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower issued a communique announcing that the Fifth Army and its Allied supporting units had overcome stiff Nazi resistance, enabling the invasion operations to be carried out according to plan.

In addition to the new bridgeheads on the mainland, the Island of Ventotene, 50 miles west of Naples, was occupied by Lieut. Gen. Mark Wayne Clark's attacking Fifth Army.

"Progress is satisfactory and well abreast of the time-table," an official statement said.

In the area of Salerno, due south of Naples, Allied troops made contact with units of the Sixteenth German Panzer Division, last heard of at Stalingrad.

A hasty withdrawal of Nazi troops from the Calabrian toe of Italy was begun. Some contact with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army was maintained. But for the most part, the German high command yanked its forces northward as speedily as possible.

LANGHORNE, Sept. 10.—The Langhorne Fire Company will solicit financial aid from September 12th to October 1st in order to purchase maintenance equipment and to defray current expenses.

Due to current conditions, members of the company decided to solicit their neighbors rather than have their annual carnival.

After the games the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Robert F. Wright. The new members were welcomed, committee reports presented, and a plea made for volunteers to aid the third bond drive.

Suggestions were presented by Miss Phyllis Kallenbach for a physical fitness program for the juniors and enthusiastically received.

Several Priests in Church of
St. Ann's As Mass
Is Conducted

MANY FLORAL TOKENS

At a Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Ann's Church this morning at 10 o'clock, final rites occurred for Bristol Borough Councilman Luigi Galzerano. Mr. Galzerano died at his Jefferson avenue home on Labor Day, following a six months period of illness.

Numerous priests were in the chancel at St. Ann's Church as the mass was said; and in addition to six members of Italian Mutual Aid Society who served as pall-bearers, there were six honorary bearers from the Order of Sons of Italy. Mr. Galzerano was an active member of both of these organizations.

Floral tokens, designating the esteem in which the deceased was held, filled not only the room of the Galzerano home in which the body reposed in a handsome casket, but also the spacious sun-porch. Throughout the past few days relatives and friends visited the home of the late councilman to pay their respects.

Among the floral pieces were

CROYDON MAN TELLS OF CAUSE OF WRECK

Harold W. McClintoc
Reveals That He Saw
Smoking Journal

SENT OUT WARNING

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—A Croydon man, Harold W. McClintoc, Dixon and Beacon avenues, was one of the principal witnesses at the inquiry yesterday into the wreck of the Congressional Limited Monday night at Frankford Junction.

Yard and tower workers of the Pennsylvania Railroad came within seconds of averting the tragic derailment, testimony disclosed.

The limited, which had completed three-quarters of its faster than a mile-a-minute journey from Washington on Labor Day without a sign of trouble, was shooting flames and smoke from a defective journal box beneath its seventh car when it passed C switching yard, three-quarters of a mile west of the scene of the wreck at Frankford Junction, two yard employees told the investigators.

Harold W. McClintoc, of Dixon and Beacon avenues, Croydon, engineer on a shifting engine at that yard, testified that he saw the tell-tale flames and shouted to A. J. Carlin, of 2544 N. 64th street, a yard clerk working nearby. The latter told of running to a telephone and calling John P. Boyer, of 2018 S. 50th street, towerman at the shore signal tower immediately adjoining Frankford Junction station.

The train was bearing down on the tower when Boyer got the message, he testified yesterday, and before he could raise a warning signal, the limited had jumped the tracks virtually at his feet.

Boyer added that he was about to notify the tower at Ford, a mile further on, when he realized that he was too late to signal the engine man directly. He did not do so because the wreck occurred first.

Members of the train's crew testified yesterday morning, at the start of the hearing before representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the FBI and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, that they discovered no indication of impending trouble in their routine inspections just before the flyer left the rails with a loss of 79 lives.

TO HELP WAR LOAN DRIVE

A meeting of members of the congregation of Avath Achim, Bristol synagogue, has been called by President Dr. Julius Sobel to organize a committee to conduct a bond drive in connection with the Third War Loan. The meeting is scheduled for 9:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, September 14, in the Temple.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF WAR LOAN BOND SALE

URGES ALL TO INVEST

"The task of selling War Bonds is not a woman's job, nor is it a man's job. It is the job of every citizen. We must remember that one more bond here may mean one less cross over there." Miss Jane Wollaston, state field representative of women's activities in the Third War Loan Drive, told Bristol Rotarians when she spoke yesterday afternoon in the Elks' Home. Mrs. J. Leslie Kilcoyne, chairman of the drive in this area, was also a guest at the meeting.

Also a feature of the meeting yesterday was the presentation of the past-president's pin of Rotary to George Ardrey by Dr. John J. Hargrave. In response to the presentation Mr. Ardrey declared, "I'll always wear this pin as a token of one of the happiest years of my life."

Member Dr. J. Fred Wagner spoke on the death of honorary member Clifford L. Anderson. He told members of the values of friendship and service which the

To the People of this Community:

IT'S PLAIN SENSE

It's plain common sense to buy War Bonds. War Bonds represent only a temporary sacrifice. The money you invest today will come back at the rate of $4 for every $3 if you hold the bonds to maturity.

The money you lend your government becomes a fighting invasion asset against your personal foe—the Axis. If you don't think this is your personal fight just take a look at this newspaper. You'll find ample evidence of the brutality of the Axis toward innocent civilians in conquered nations.

There is one more vital thought to keep in mind as you consider just how far you will go in buying War Bonds during the Third War Loan. Every American who wears a uniform, every American who is on the fighting lines deserves every bit of support you can give him. He is counting on the home front and that's YOU. Buying an extra $100 War Bond today above your regular War Bond buying is the least you can do to back the attack.

3rd War Loan Drive Is Opened; Sales Listed

The Third War Loan Drive opened at all theatres in this area yesterday with rallies, they occurring at the Ritz Theatre, Croydon; Bristol and Grand Theatres, Bristol. American Legion Cadets heralded with patriotic music.

The master of ceremonies, John Leslie Kilcoyne, introduced James Harris, chairman of the Croydon area, at the Ritz in Croydon. Mr. Harris told of the great importance of this drive, as well as giving Croydon recognition for "the fine work you are going to do."

At the Bristol Theatre, Elmer VanZant, chairman of the Bensalem area, said he is willing to put forth every effort to see that every nook and corner in Bensalem is covered, and that residents there will more than reach their quota.

At the Grand Theatre, Mr. Kilcoyne explained that the bonds purchased in the second war loan drive were used to win this great victory of the past few days, and that this money which we hope to raise in the third war loan drive will be the money which will spell victory for the U. S. A.

Mrs. John Leslie Kilcoyne, chairman of the Bristol area, thanked the citizens of Bristol for their marvelous co-operation during the last drive, and expressed the feeling that she is sure they will do the same, if not more, for this one; and that Bristol will not only make its quota, but double it. "It is very nice for the Bristolians to know that during the last drive, Bristol as a single area sold more war bonds than any other area in all Pennsylvania."

America's Youth, the members of the "Blue Star Brigade" were represented from all areas: Bensalem, Croydon, Edgely, Tullytown and Bristol, each introducing himself or herself and giving his age and telling what he has done and intends to do for this third war loan drive. Included among these little children were the Junior and Senior Girl Scouts of each area.

Bristol area's first day sales for the third war loan drive reached $150,000. Organizations contributing to the amount were: Lily Rebecca Lodge, $8,000; Hebrew Ladies' Aid, $26,000. Each organization made the statement that "This isn't all, we are still on the firing line and hope to 'Back the Attack' with much more."

BOY IS CHRISTENED

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Blanchini, Market street, had their son, Franklin Emidio, christened in St. Ann's R. C. Church on Sunday at 12 o'clock mass. The sponsors were Mildred and Alfonso DeRose. A dinner was held at the Blanchini home for members of the family. Guests were: Mrs. Antoinetta DeRose; Mildred Rita, Cecilia, Joseph and Alfonso DeRose, Philadelphia; Joseph Fruscione, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Angelo and family, of Bristol.

Bicyclist Hits Cow

(By "The Stroller")
Well, what do you think of a farmer who rides a bicycle and can't avoid hitting a cow?

There is such a farmer in this section of Bucks County if what I am told is true, and I have no reason to doubt my informant.

The story as I get it is that George LaRue, Jr., a well-known farmer of the Emilie section, was riding a bicycle on the Emilie road the other day, and ran into one of Charles Lancaster's cows.

Whether the cow should have been displaying a red flag or not is for those engaged in promoting highway safety to determine.

Perhaps George was waiting for the cow to sound her horn.

FATHER OF 3 ENDS LIFE BY HANGING

Oscar Tomlinson's Lifeless
Body Found in Cleveland St. Home

HAD AN OPERATION

A father of three children committed suicide by hanging yesterday afternoon, according to the police. Oscar Tomlinson, 44, 238 Cleveland street, was found hanging by a rope over the door of a closet in his bedroom. He had been despondent recently, it is said, and suffered from a recent operation.

It was about two o'clock yesterday afternoon when a daughter of Tomlinson's, who was in a bedroom on the second floor saw two of her father's brothers drive up in front of the house. She thought that her father was asleep in his room as the door was closed when she had last passed it. She went to the door to arouse her father to inform him that his brothers had arrived. She found the door locked.

The brothers of the deceased placed a ladder against the house and a son of Tomlinson's climbed up onto the roof and looked through a window. He saw his father hanging to the door.

The lad went into the room and opened the door so that the men could get into the room to cut down the body.

Bristol police were called and Patrolman Vanzant responded. Deputy Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, of Cornwells Heights, was summoned.

The service for Mr. Tomlinson, husband of Nellie M. Barber Tomlinson, will be conducted on Monday at 11 a. m. from a funeral home at 7915 Torresdale avenue, Philadelphia. Interment will be in Magnolia Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Friends may call Sunday evening between seven and nine o'clock.

Firemen Quickly Extinguish Blaze

Fire yesterday afternoon threatened the residence occupied by Thomas Tanner, Buckley and Beaver streets, when a garage about 15 feet away caught fire from burning grass.

The flames spread rapidly and soon the three-garage building was aflame. Dense smoke due to the composition roof burning covered the area.

An automobile owned by Miss Winifred Tracy, who resides across the street, was pushed out just in time to prevent it from becoming ignited.

Firemen soon had the blaze under control and had it not been for what firemen call a "quick-stop" the Tanner place would have been ignited.

Deny Report Italian King Has Abdicated

London—Stefani, the official Italian news agency, today denied reports that King Victor Emmanuel has abdicated in favor of Prince Umberto.

Flatly branding the abdication report as "untrue," Stefani insisted that the Italian King had not given up his throne, as was reported earlier in the day in reports reaching London from the Italo-Swiss frontier.

Italy in State of War With Germany

London—Italy was in a virtual state of war with Germany today as a result of bitter clashes between Italian and German troops in northern Italy, France and along the Dalmatian coast and attacks by Nazi bombing planes on Italian warships seeking to join the Allies.

(The Germans this morning bombed Rome, according to a British broadcast which quoted the Rome radio.)

New word of violent fighting between German and Italian soldiers and a German radio announcement that its planes had sunk an Italian battleship and a cruiser followed a report that the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio was contemplating an outright declaration of war against Berlin.

As tension increased throughout southern Europe Allied forces gained headway in attacks against the Germans on the Italian mainland, the Swiss radio reported that an Allied invasion of Albania, across the Adriatic from Italy, is imminent. A large convoy, escorted by strong naval forces, was reported seen moving into the Ionian Sea.

British Sink 17 Italian Vessels in Final Battle Stages

FEWER CASES OF DRUNKEN DRIVERS LISTED FOR TRIAL

Gasoline Rationing is Given As Cause For The Decrease

FOUR CASES LISTED

Thirty-Three New Cases Are Listed for Trial at Court
Next Week

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 10.—The super-inebriates who come in the "drunken driver" class are evidently doing their drinking at home, for believe it or not, there are but four defendants listed for trial at the September term of Bucks county criminal court who are charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

One of the four cases is a continued one from the last term, so that the total of three new cases is the very lowest in Bucks county since prohibition ceased to be a law. This decrease in the number of drunken drivers has been steady during the past year, at least.

Those who are supposed to know the reason, say that the gasoline rationing and pleasure driving ban had much to do with it, and that most of the drinking is being done in the home towns and not out at the well known night spots.

Another reason for the decrease in the number of cases is that most individuals know by this time that driving while drunk is expensive drinking. In Bucks county, by the time a lawyer is paid his fee and the court is paid the fine and costs.

There are 33 new cases listed for trial during the September term, and three continued cases. The Grand Jury will convene Monday and the traverse jury the following

BRISTOL BOXER IS WINNER OVER MICKEY FINN

Pfc. Charles Petrino Scores
Victory at California
Camp

A THREE-ROUND BOUT
Crowd of 3,000 on Feet
From Start To Finish

A Bristol boy, PFC Charles Petrino, Minor street, has been doing some boxing at the camp where he is stationed, Fort Ord, California. Petrino recently fought in the East Garrison Arena and before 3,000 fans scored a close triumph over Mickey Finn. Finn outweighed the Bristol boy by eight pounds.

Petrino won the three-round bout by his vicious body blows and hard rights to the heart. It was the best bout of the night and had the crowd on its feet from start to finish.

PFC Petrino had been in the army since June, 1942, and before entering fought many bouts in the St. Ann's Arena, here. He won the Trenton Times tournament and New Jersey State Championship in 1942, copping a decision and knocking out another opponent all in one night. He represented New Jersey at the Madison Square Garden in New York and lost a close decision to Jeff Smith, of Virginia.

Voice Recording Machine
Aids in War Bond Drive

In order to promote the sale of war bonds for the Third War Loan Drive, a phonograph company has loaned to Bensalem for the period of two weeks a voice recording machine, which was installed today at King Hall, Andalusia.

The war bond committee has planned to take this machine to each community so that the citizens may have an opportunity to record a message in their own voices for shipment to their loved ones in camp or overseas.

In Andalusia today, some mothers had voices of their children transcribed on the machine to preserve in an album for the future.

This instrument has been used to record the voices of President Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie, and many other national figures.

The committee was extremely fortunate in being able to secure this for a period of two weeks for the use of the drive. Operators skilled in the use of the machine will be on duty from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. at the following places: King Hall, Andalusia, Sept. 10 and 11; St. Charles Hall, Cornwells Heights, Sept. 12; Cornwells Methodist Church, Sept. 13, 14; Dr. A. L. MacKenzie's residence, Eddington, Sept. 15 and 16; Citizens Defense Association, Newport Fire House, Newport Terrace, Sept. 17 and 18; St. Charles Hall, Cornwells Heights, Sept. 19.

Fewer Cases of Drunken Drivers Listed for Trial

Monday, Sept. 20. There will be no court on Tuesday, Sept. 14, primary election day.

Burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods, assault and battery, have taken the place of drunken driving as the most popular crime in Bucks county for the September term.

E. O. Mastin, of near Quakertown, on whose farm, two Negro tomato pickers burned to death recently, is charged with involuntary manslaughter, and his case will go before the Grand Jury next week.

Walter Rice, of Croydon, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, is also listed for the Grand Jury next week.

Sixteen different crimes are to be found charged in the bills of indictments prepared by the District Attorney's office.

The complete list of cases for trial as prepared by District Attorney Edward G. Biester and Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin, is as follows:

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Unless a supply has already been laid aside from last year a good many hunters are going to be out of luck for ammunition in all sizes this season.

According to the latest information available the ammunition which you can expect from the WPB will include the following: Center fire cartridges will be issued in the following calibers: 300 Savage, 30-30, 270 Winchester, 25-35 and 35 Remington. Twelve-gauge super-X will be available for shotguns in shot sizes 4, 6 and 7 1/2. In 16-gauge there will be 4's and 6's and in 20-gauge 6 and 7 1/2 shot. How, where and when the ammunition will be made available will probably be made clear by WPB at a later date.

George Effing, 111 Finmore street, has entered another largemouth bass in the contest sponsored by the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association for its members. This latest entry is a 3 1/2 pound bass taken this week at Maple Beach. The fish measured 18 inches. This tops the next largest bass entry (also caught by George a few weeks ago in the Canal) by almost a pound.

Date to remember: Tuesday, September 14th — next regular meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Walnut & Radcliffe Streets. Meeting is scheduled for 8 P. M. All sportsmen are welcome to attend.

According to a letter just received from Commissioner of Fisheries, Charles A. French, one of the reasons for the low water level of the Canal was because this stretch was open at New Hope. He says a shovel has been working and the water is flowing again. During the past few days the level in the lower end has steadily been creeping up towards normal and local fishermen should still enjoy plenty of action before the close of the season. As a matter of fact, I met a Philadelphia just above Jefferson Avenue, Bristol, the other day and he had a string of five nice pickerel. He was using nice bait. I tried the Canal in back of the Wilson Distilling Company Wednesday evening. Was using a spoon and a bait casting rod. Got two bass, the larger measuring 14 inches.

Pennsylvania's fishing season for bass is at its height throughout the Commonwealth now but even so outdoorsmen are looking forward to the hunting season, the State Department of Commerce says.

Although the bass season does not end until November 30, the Department is already receiving many requests for information regarding the coming hunting period, especially requests for its booklet on "Hunting Accommodations in Pennsylvania."

Reports to the Department indicate a good game season in the uplands and mountains. Many requests to the Department for hunting literature come from men in the armed services who, looking forward to furloughs, express the desire to spend them hunting in Penn's Woods. This was also true of requests for information regarding fishing in the State.

Five flower cars were required to transport the tokens of esteem. Four hundred people were in the funeral procession, borough council being represented by a delegation from that body.

Rotarians Hear of War Loan Bond Sale

late burgess had given during his lifetime. Following his talk members paid tribute in silent meditation.

In answer to the question of how we are on the home front preparing ourselves as the soldiers have on the battle front Miss Wollaston told the group, "We are selling War Bonds and more War Bonds."

"This Third War Loan Drive is the largest ever known and every man, woman and child must do his part. We must all work together. In the last world war during the 2nd Victory Loan Drive there were 17 per cent of our people who did not know the drive was in progress. We must all know about this drive 100 per cent and we must all participate 100 per cent.

"Very few of us are really selling bonds. When we consider what the boys on the battlefronts are doing the least that we here at home can do is to buy extra bonds during the next three weeks.

"Many farm mortgages are being liquidated today and the money saved is being put into hiding places . . . this money should be brought out and put into War Bonds."

Miss Wollaston praised the work being done in this area by Mrs. J. Leslie Kilcoyne and her committee. "Mrs. Kilcoyne's work in this drive to sell bonds is outstanding in the State," Miss Wollaston declared.

Croydon Man Tells Of Cause of Wreck

The hearing was held in the offices of J. L. Cranwell, superintendent of the Philadelphia Terminal Division of the railroad.

The probe was held behind closed doors, with high-ranking officials of the road sitting in. A spokesman for the company had announced turns—had caused an axle to sheer previously, that preliminary investigation showed a "hot box" or overheated journal box—the bearing and taking eight other cars off the line in which the tip of each axle tracks with it.
